Class of 2008

Teacher of the Year

Mr. Robert Mooney

We, the Class of 2008, dedicate our yearbook to Mr. Mooney. Over the past four years at RMHS, Mr. Mooney has lead our class to greatness. All students who have had the privilege of knowing Mr. Bob Mooney will find it hard to forget his unique teaching style and sense of humor. He has the ability to explain even the most complex concepts through an animated and interesting approach in classes that students truly look forward to attending. Also, serving as our hard-working class advisor, Mr. Mooney has guided us through the past four years. Aside from providing bagels for just about everyone in the senior class out of the kindness of his heart, Mr. Mooney has served as an excellent example of a good person. His collared shirts, khaki shorts and untamed hair will always have a place in our hearts. We dedicate the yearbook to our fearless commander. Thank you, Mr. Mooney, for helping to make the past four years unforgettable.

Dear Class of 2008,

The Class of 2008 had many accomplishments during the years in academics, drama, music and athletics. In so many ways students in the Class of 2008 have brought honor and recognition to both Reading Memorial High School and to the entire Reading community. It has been my privilege to be the superintendent of such a fine group of young men and young women.

As you embark on a new leg of life's journey, I urge you to work hard, play hard, and dream often. Allow me to share a quote that was told to me, "The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams."

On behalf of the Reading School Committee, the administration and staff of the Reading Public Schools, I congratulate you on completing your education here in Reading and wish you a healthy, happy and successful future.

Sincerely,

Dear Members of the Class of 2008:

Congratulations to an outstanding senior class! It is with a great deal of pleasure and pride that I have been your principal for your four years at Reading Memorial High School. During the course of the past four years, I have witnessed your accomplishments: outstanding academic performances in the classroom, successful drama and musical performances, and athletic competitions in the many venues at RMHS. Your commitment, talents, and success in all of these have brought great recognition our school and to the greater Reading community.

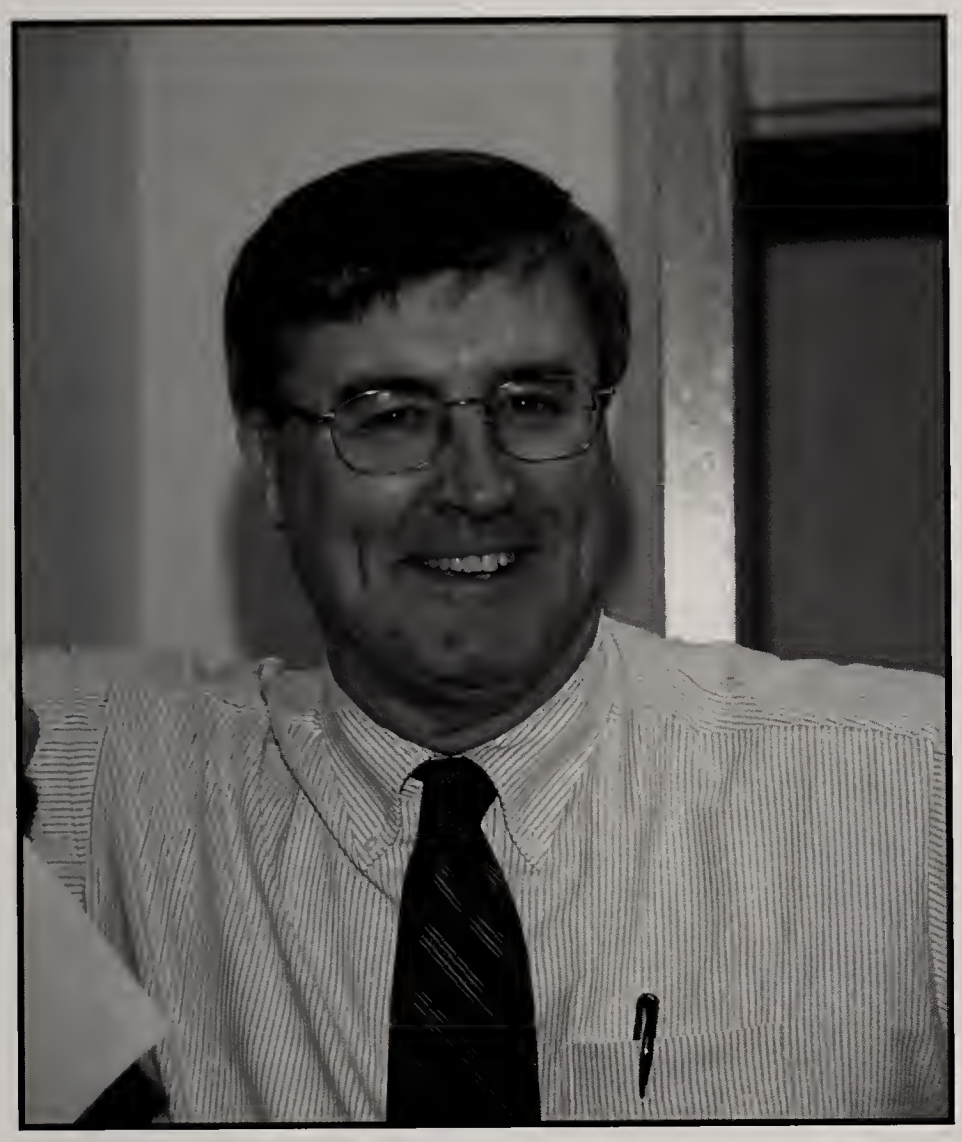

The members of the Class of 2008 have left an extraordinary legacy at RMHS. Your leadership, character, hard work and determination have provided direction for the entire school through the historic RMHS construction project. Moreover, your positive influence is not limited to your classmates, for you have left a positive legacy for underclassmen and teachers alike. These qualities which you have exhibited prepare you well for the extraordinary lives you are to lead.

Thank you for all that you have given us at RMHS. Your commitment, hard work and dedication to RMHS will be your legacy.

Sincerely,

Joseph L. Finigan

Dear Class of 2008,

You are a historic graduating class for our school. A 2008 RMHS graduate will be a rare RMHS graduate in the future, for you came through the construction of the new RMHS! And you survived.

You witnessed both the beginning and the endthe plans and predictions, the noise, dust, problems, and excitement. Phase I, Phase II, Phase III---meant something to the contractors, building committee, and administrators, but it had no meaning for you---but you lived through them all. You measured those months and years with the ever-changing corridors and ceiling conditions, the ever-evolving parking regulations and restrictions, and the continuous lessons and projectsthe on-going student life.

You lived the old, and you lived the new. You knew the Commons, the Café, the old library...and the old, old library...the Tower. You were around for the old auditorium, the Main Entrance and circular driveway and trees out front, the girls gym, Echo Hall, The Link, and the Orange Lockers. The artwork, the woodwork, and the things that wouldnt work! You used The Bridge. You were there for the disappearance of chalkboards and overhead projectors and the coming of SmartBoards! And now you have new classrooms, Main Street, the Performing Arts Center, a first-class Media Center, the Field House and Fitness Center, and the South Parking Lot!

You, the Class of 2008, may also realize some day that your four years here came when we said good-bye to many of our memorable faculty as they set off into retirement and hello to so many new teachers who will be in the middle of their careers by your tenth reunion.

You are creating the seeds of history about which people will someday seek you out to learn. You were a part of something. You saw things and will remember things that many can never knowbecause you were there.

Your 2008 Pioneer cannot capture all that you know from these years---It can only remind you...refocus you. ...clarify those moments... for you will add the feelings, the background details, the sights and the sounds. You will add the people. You are a pivotal part of our RMHS history. Enjoy your moment. Remember your moment.

Congratulations, Ladies & Gentlemen!

Dear Class of 2008,

It is difficult to come to the realization that you are seniors and ready to embark on "life after high school." Having a son, Kellen, in the Class of 2008, and having had the pleasure of knowing many of you from elementary school, to middle school, to your four years of high school, I have always felt a close attachment to your class.

Whether I have had the privilege to have coached you in athletic youth programs, enjoyed seeing you perform in different capacities in the classroom, on stage, or during formal competitions, or have had the good fortune to become acquainted with you, I have been proud of you as people and of your accomplishments.

You have demonstrated significant growth physically, intellectually and socially and have evidenced that you comport yourself with pride, maturity, respect, and dignity. It is no wonder that I am referring to you when I often brag to people, "We've got great kids at Reading Memorial High School."

Although I believe wholeheartedly that you will be successful in whatever endeavors you choose to pursue, and that I will look forward to "keeping tabs" on your future successes and achievements, I will miss you greatly. Juliet Capulet expressed my sentiments of your departure from the Reading Memorial High School eloquently when she stated, "Parting is such sweet sorrow."

Good luck to the Class of 2008. You've been awesome!

Respectfully,
Michael Scarpitto

My 4 years of high school were awesome. I had a ton of fun playing baseball and football. I also had a blast with all my friends. My favorite memory was when the football team gave Blanch Fitzy for an engagement gift. Most importantly, I would like to thank my parents for supporting me. With out them I would not be here. Mom and Dad you guys are amazing. Lastly, good luck to all in the class '08!

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you,
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you
But make allowance for their doubting too,
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you;
If all men count with you, but none too much,
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And--which is more--you'll be a Man, my son!

I've come to the conclusion that if having things turn out the way you wanted them to is the measure of a successful life, then some would say that I'm a failure. Learn to let go of the past. Don't be afraid to make mistakes, cause most of the time the greatest rewards come from doing the things that scare you the most. Who knows where life will take you. First of all, I would like to thank my mother & father for being the hard-working & inspiring parents they are.
Secondly, big shout out to my fellow METCO
students (Keep Ya Head Up).Tekhari,Yoel,Stanley
& of course Dominick, I will miss you all.
Lastly Id like to thank God along with myself.
To the class of 2008,
lets make this a year to remember &
make life worth the struggle to later laugh.

Class of 2008

Reading Memorial High School

Information

Mr. Mooney has served as our class advisor for all four of our years here at RMHS. For the first two years, Mr. Porter assisted him with the planning of events such as the Progressive Dinner, Sophomore Semi, and class trip to Six Flags. In our junior year Mr. Mooney was our sole class advisor, working to plan several class events, most notably the Junior Prom. In our senior year, Mr. Strout joined Mr. Mooney as our senior class advisor, volunteering specifically to manage the Mr. RMHS project. The class of 2008 would like to thank our advisors, Mr. Mooney especially, for their hard work and dedication.

Mr. Strout, thanks for advising through our senior year. Your service to the class has helped make this past year at RMHS a memorable one. Mr. Mooney, thanks for the past four years. You have continually served as a great example of leadership since I first served on class office as a freshman. In four years, you have taught us officers a lot. Thanks for everything.

P.S. For the record, I still think Rocky IV serves as a completely accurate depiction of the events of the Cold War.

Meet the Editors

This yearbook began three years ago when the editors joined yearbook staff. Today, this book in your hands represents countless hours spent at school, missed deadlines, missing pictures, and hundreds of stuffed envelopes. We never thought the day would get here when our yearbook was finally done, but we made it.

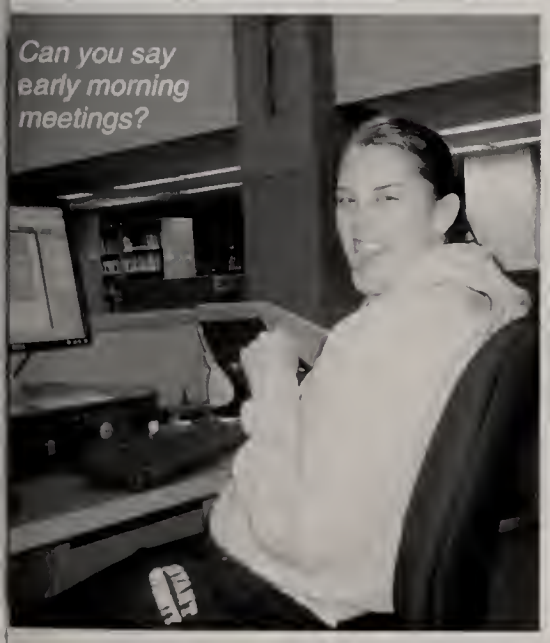

From those hot August days back at Monmouth right up until we received the much-anticipated shipment from Jostens, we have worked to make this the best yearbook possible. We wanted to give you, the RMHS students of 2007 and 2008, nothing less than an amazing yearbook.

This book should remind you of the good times, bad times, and everything in between. However, this yearbook should not be the only way to remember this year. We want you to make "iYear" into your year. Go ahead- write on the pages, cross things out, draw hearts around your friends. What do you want to remember? Why was this year special for you?

Whether it be when you show off your high school to college friends, or if you're bored and happen to be flipping through these pages, we want you to enjoy looking back on this year. Remember your teachers, friends, activities, clubs, and sports, and anything else that made this year "iYear."

Question and Answer

Talent Show

Many singers took the stage that night at the talent show. Will we see any of these kids on American Idol?

Mrs. Dailey and Tom Feeney knew how to entertain the crowd with their stylish hip hop and break dancing moves.

Winter Concert

The RMHS Performing Arts department put on their annual Winter Concert. The Stage Band, Jazz Band, RMHS Singers, Chorus, and Concert Band performed seasonal favorites.

~ The Grey Zone ~

"The Grey Zone" challenged us all to look at ourselves as fellow human beings and attempt to understand how something like the Holocaust could happen. There were moments where we all felt upset, but throughout it all, we knew we were doing something amazing for the community and for the memory of the 12 million who perished during the Nazi's Reign of Terror.

Playing for Time

Playing for Time" was a play that examined, on both very personal and horifically widespread level, the errors that humans are capable of. In displaying the xperiences of Fania Fenelon, we showed the ommunity a realistic, unforgiving look at the horrors of e holocaust, and reminded them that everyone involved as a fellow human being. Most importantly we eminded them that the worst thing we can do is to lose at spark of hope, give up, and forget.

You know you went to RMHS if...

You realize, or will soon, that the only place the term "soc" (short for social studies) is used is at Reading Memorial High School

You keep a complete wardrobe in your locker because who knows what temperature school is going to be on any given day.

You receive the High Five award, and know you will also receive a million high fives.

You know that Mrs. Shields has all the answers, or at the very least can point you in the direction of someone who does.

You think that the Student Resource Officer should apply for Pimp my Ride.

You know the bird noises in the school aren't really birds....they're Mo.

You always used to wonder when the terminal would collapse...and why you were walking through a dumpster.

You've seen Mrs. Dailey's Survivor audition tape, and want to tell everyone you know about it.

The only reason you go to the Army, Marines, and Navy tables set up at lunch is to get the free pencils, lanyards, and stickers.

You have had at least one Cold Day, Rain day, Ice day, and Fire day.

You wish you could turn your Bagel World coffee invisible before one of the principals gets it.

Your business is everyone's business - end of discussion.

Victoria Ronga

"Success: To laugh often and much, to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children, to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends, to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others, to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. This is to have succeeded!"
~Ralph Waldo Emerson
